Prisoner Who Killed Wife Dynamites Self To Death In Cell

Texas Attorney Kills Self In His Jail Cell

Attorney A. D. Payne, Held On Charge Of Murdering Wife Commits Suicide

FELLOW PRISONER HAS CLOSE CALL
Dynamite Blast Mangles Body
—Dramatic End For Fiendish Crime

(International News Service)
AMARILLO, Texas, Aug.
30.—The A. D. Payne murder case came to a dramatic end today when Payne took his own life in the Potter County jail here in a manner identical to that which he used to kill his pretty young wife two months ago.

Barely twelve hours after he had been indicted for blowing his wife to bits with a charge of dynamite, Payne lay down in his jail cell with a quantity of the same explosive under his body. He was killed instantly, badly mangled.

Suffered Breakdown
His jailers were at loss to understand how he obtained the explosive with which he took his life. Yesterday afternoon he talked with his children, Ladell and A. D. Jr., after which he collapsed and wept. There was some difficulty in getting him back into his cell.

After midnight Payne asked that he be left alone and a group of prisoners who had been gathered around him dispersed to their bunks. A short time later he was found dead.

PA NEW OBSERVES

New Castle News employees will celebrate Labor Day on Monday, and there will be no issue of The News
on that day.

Daylight savings time era in New Castle for the season ends tonight.
Clocks will be turned back an hour to Eastern Standard time, at midnight. Remember that the method of turning a clock back an hour is to turn it on eleven hours, if you do not want to damage the clock.

Excavation is being made for another fine residence in the Berger Woods on the North Hill. Five or six fine brick homes have been added
on this plot during the summer.

The intersection of the Perry Highway and the New Castle and Slippery Rock road is now completed and the Perry highway, going both directions can be entered at Harlansburg. Workmen are still engaged on the finishing work on the stretch between Harlansburg and the Butler road
however, and it is necessary to drive with caution.

While the Ellwood City-Portersville highway is not yet open for traffic, it is expected that it will be ready in a short time. The Portersville end of the highway appears to have been completed, but the Wurttemburg end is not yet finished.

If you want a scenic route for a forty or fifty mile drive in this section go out to Harlansburg, across the Perry highway to Butler road, on to Portersville, out the Perry highway to Zelienople, then back to Ellwood City and New Castle. It has hills and valleys and woods that rival the most mountainous sections of the entire state.

New Castle will have lots of activity for Labor Day. There will be the great music festival at the cathedral.

Tour Of Potato Growers Shows Potato Crop Will Be Fair Despite Drought

Although for the most part Lawrence county farmers have not commenced digging their potatoes, it is probable that this year's crop will be a pretty fair one, according to the county farm agent, Harold R. Mc-Culloch.

Mr. McCulloch, with N. Schmitz, of the department of crops and soils,
State College, and a group of near 40
Lawrence county potato growers,
made a tour of inspection of four potato farms in this and Mercer county, on Friday morning and afternoon.

The group first went to the farm of C. B. Patton, Harlansburg road.
They proceeded from there to the farm of A. E. McCreary and sons, north of East Brook, then to the farms of the McDowell brothers and Robinson brothers, in Mercer county.
Those four farms are among the

Auto Dealers Of State May Come Here Next Year

Officials Of Organization Investigate Facilities Here
On Friday

DELEGATION TO URGE ACCEPTANCE

Would Bring Between 400
And 500 Persons To City
In October, 1931

New Castle is practically assured of receiving another large convention in October, 1931, it was made known today, following the visit of Claude Clew, secretary and manager of the Pennsylvania Auto Dealers Association and William Reeder, both of Harrisburg, who were in New Castle yesterday investigating the facilities of the city for convention purposes.

Both Mr. Clew and Mr. Reeder were well pleased with the arrangements of New Castle for convention purposes and assured members of the New Castle Auto Dealers Association, that New Castle was almost certain to receive the convention.

They spoke at the Elks luncheon
of the auto dealers at the Elks club
Friday, and were taken to the New Castle Field club in the afternoon.
They also inspected the hotels here and the Cathedral.

An invitation to come to New Castle had already been extended the association by the local organization,
and in addition a delegation will go to Reading in October when the 1930 convention is held to urge acceptance of the invitation to come here.

It was stated that between 400 and 500 persons would attend the convention which will last for several days.

Crystal Gazer In Chicago Murdered

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, Aug. 30.—Christ Vlahos, fortune teller and crystal gazer, was slain today under mysterious circumstances and his body hurled from the second floor window of his home and "office".

His body was found on the sidewalk in front of his home, stabbed three times in the chest. A shattered window gave evidence that he had been pitched out by the killer. A crystal ball was found in his rooms.

Will Rogers says:

(Special To The News)
TAHOE TAVERN, Cal., Aug.
30.—Did you read about the nominations in the state of Idaho?

You remember Senator Borah used to be quite a favorite up there? Well, I never saw a man going back so fast as he is.

Why the other day there was actually half of one county that wasn't for him, for a unanimous nomination. The Democrats shouldn't have nominated an opponent against him, for he is the best Democrat in America.

But that half a county being against him shows you can't be at the top always.

Yours,
Will Rogers.

Paper Expresses Doubt Bodies Of Andree And Two Companions Found

(International News Service)
LONDON, Aug. 30.—Serious doubts over the accuracy of reports the bodies of Salomon August Andree and his two companions have been found in the Arctic are beginning to be felt in Scandinavia, it was reported in an exchange telegraph dispatch from Copenhagen today.

The Copenhagen newspaper "S. T." seriously believes only the equipment of the Andree expedition was found in the camp on White Island, Fridtjof Nansen Land, the message stated.
The Copenhagen newspaper point-

Norway Eagerly Awaits Diary Of Explorers' Fate

Utmost Secrecy Ordered For Records Being Brought Back From Polar Regions

SCIENTIST GIVES HIS VIEWPOINTS

Believe That Andree And His Companions Lived In Snow Prison Two Years

(International News Service)
OSLO, Norway, Aug. 30.—A new theory of the fate which befell Salomon August Andree and his two companions, lost in 1897 in an attempt to reach the North Pole by air, indicating they had lived for fully two years in their Arctic camp before death overtook them, was being discussed with considerable interest here today.

The theory was put forward by Dr.
Adolf Hoel, head of the Norwegian government research office in Spitzbergen, after a thorough study of the meagre reports received thus far
of the discovery of the explorers' bodies in the remains of their camp on White Island, Fridtjof Nansen Land.

Dr. Hoel's beliefs, expressed in an official report to the Norwegian government, increased the impatience of scientists and the general public to learn the full story of the ill-starred expedition.

Masked Man In Woman's Bedroom Demands Money

Had No Gun But Makes Good His Demand By Getting Money In Another Room

While alone at her home, Mrs.
Catherine Cashmore, 1004 Croton avenue, was awakened about eleven o'- clock last night, when a match was lighted in her darkened bedroom, and a masked man, whom she could barely see in the dim light of the match
said "Give me your money."

Mrs. Cashmore had no money and told the robber so. He then went into an adjoining room and securing $3
from a dresser drawer, left the house.

According to Mrs. Cashmore, the robber had no gun that she could see. He wore a blue handkerchief as a mask over his face and had on a soft hat. He was apparently about five feet six inches in height.

Mrs. Cashmore called the police but the robber had departed and efforts to locate him in the district were of no use.

Daylight Time Ends Tonight

City Will Be Back On Old Schedule Sunday Morning After Three Month's Period

New Castle will go back on eastern standard time at midnight tonight, at which time Pa New and the rest of the citizens will set the clock back one hour and gain back the hour
given away last spring.

In other words, if it is 11 o'clock when one goes to bed tonight he will turn the hour hand back to 10 o'clock.
Some one particular person should be delegated to perform this task as it might cause complications if two or three in the family do the same thing.

The present arrangement of observing daylight savings only during the three summer months of June, July and August, which was worked out after a conference between the merchants and industrial heads of the city last spring, has proven more satisfactory than any which has been in effect heretofore and will probably be continued next year.

Most of the churches will observe eastern standard time tomorrow, but a few have arranged their schedules on the old time.

Here's Saturday back but it's different today, for Sunday is just half the thing, for Monday you don't have the laugh and roll over and snore, for the day is a holiday, son, you can sleep till the time when on other Mondays, you should have your duties half done. So be glad of the fact that this Monday for you, is known as Labor's own day, and you

Captured Bandit Takes Police Car For His Getaway

Police Leave Prisoner In Machine To Investigate Other Case And Get

INTENSIVE HUNT FOR GAS BANDITS

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Aug. 30.—One of two bandits, captured by Duquesne police following the holdup of a Clair-ton gasoline service station, made a daring escape today in a police automobile in which he was being taken to headquarters.

Two patrolmen, escorting the prisoner, immediately leaped into the bandit's car and gave chase but were forced to stop when the machine ran out of gasoline near Bettis Field.

The bandits entered the Dauler Penzoil Company's service station in Clairton last night and escaped with about $30 in cash taken from the cash register. John Brenner, the attendant, was forced to stand with hands elevated while the men searched the place for money.

Nearby boroughs were notified of the robbery and Patrolmen Walter Donalski and J. C. Heckert, cruising the district in Heckert's machine, noticed two men on the outskirts of Duquesne whose descriptions fitted those of the fleeing bandits.

Donalski and Heckert forced the bandit car to the curb. Both men attempted to flee and one got away.
The other was placed in the bandit car, with Donalski driving, and started for the Duquesne police station.
Henkert followed in the police machine.

About two miles from Bettis Field,
the officers saw a man asleep in an automobile parked on the roadside.
Both policemen left their lone prisoner and crept up on the sleeping man, whereupon the prisoner leaped from his own machine, crouched behind the wheel of the police car and sped away.
Donalski and Heckert gave chase, but were outdistanced.

Descriptions of the car and the bandit driver were flashed throughout the county and a widespread police hunt was begun.

Youths Confess To Death Of Man

(International News Service)
ROCHESTER, N. Y., Aug. 30.— Charged with causing the death of an elderly man by piling brush over him and setting a fire, three boys were under arrest today. All are under 12 years of age.

Police said the youths had admitted they built a bonfire on top of Jas. Wright, 69 as he slept in a junk yard on August 13. He died of burns August 25.

"We did it just for fun" the boys told officers, police said. The names of the boys were withheld. They gave their ages as 8, 9 and 11. A charge of juvenile delinquency will be made against them.

The lads said that when they saw the aged man asleep near a tree they piled brush and papers over him and set the pile afire. Wright was found by workmen and taken to a hospital where he died.

Young Woman Is Slain By Man As She Resists Him

Lou Hoover, 65, Hunted As Slayer Of Mrs. Mabel Gehrint, 21, In Mahaffey, Pa.

ADVANCES REPULSED BY YOUNG WOMAN

By Clifford A. Shay
International News Service Special Correspondent
MAHAFFEY, Pa., Aug. 30.—What was believed to have been an incident of December-May romance was transformed into tragedy here today when Lou Hoover, 65-year-old husband and father, shot and killed Mrs. Mabel Gehrint, 21, who had repulsed the aged man's advances.

As a climax to the shooting, Hoover this afternoon was fleeing through the hills of Indiana county, southeast of here in a small automobile seeking to elude a posse of state and county officers who took up the chase following the finding of the attractive young woman's body.

Hoover had escorted Mrs. Gehrint, who was estranged from her husband, to the Clearfield County Fair at Clearfield, near here, yesterday. They were old friends and neighbors.

During the trip, police believe, Hoover's protestations of admiration for his young companion had been received with laughter and had aroused Hoover to fury.

Meeting Mrs. Gehrint on the street of this little community, the aged man induced Mrs. Gehrint to enter his home on the pretext that he wanted her to examine "some important papers."

Hardly had the couple crossed the threshold, neighbors said, than a single shot rang out, followed almost immediately by Hoover fleeing from the home, leaving in his small automobile, and disappearing in a southwesterly direction. It was believed that he had headed for Glen Campbell, crossing the county intersection line into Indiana county.

Tentative arrangements for the second annual educational farm tour for Lawrence county bankers, under the auspices of the Lawrence County Bankers' association, to be held in the afternoon of Tuesday, September 9, were announced today by County Farm Agent H. R. McCulloch, who is co-operating with the bankers in outlining the tour.

Leaving the city shortly after noon, the bankers will visit farms where dairying, potato growing and horse, poultry and sheep raising are specialized in.

A dinner in one of the Grange halls of the county, following which H. G. Niesley, assistant director of agricultural extension work from the Pennsylvania State College, will speak, is to bring the farm trip to a close.

Forty or more bankers from all over the county participated in last year's tour.

You're the JUDGE

AN AGED widow lived alone on a small farm. In another state lived her married daughter. One day she wrote suggesting that if the daughter and her husband would come and live with her and take care of her that they would have the use and income of the farm and also the household goods. In a postscript to the letter she also stated that the place would pass to them after she, the aged widow, died. Some more correspondence passed between them and after a while the married daughter and her husband came.

It was not long, however, before trouble broke. As a result the widow ordered the couple out. But the two refused to go. Then the widow had executed and delivered to a son of hers in a different state a deed to the premises and that very week the son served notice on his sister and her husband to leave. But the couple still refused. Then the son threatened to evict them. At this the couple fled suit.

How would you decide this case? Make up your mind before you read the decision.

Decision will be found on Classified Page.)

motor races at the fair grounds, a big program at Cascade Park, golfing and other activities at the Field club and the Municipal golf course, private picnics and programs at various local resorts, motor trips, and a host of other features.

While there was no rain in New Castle yesterday, a trip to the eastern part of the county revealed that quite a heavy rain had been experienced there, as the fields and roads were muddy.

There will be a boom business in the demand for fence posts for guards along the new highways that have been constructed in this district this summer, one would imagine. There are many hills that will require fences along both sides to make the highways safe, especially for traffic this winter.

It is expected that the new paving on Grant street will be open for traffic next week. If it is open for Monday, it will probably have a lot of Labor Day travel, as motor traffic over the Labor Day period is always heavy.

Young Pa Newc wonders if anyone who sees the brilliant red streamer stretched between two poles and a frame, at the rear of a home at the corner of South Mill and Division streets, is curious to know why it is there? We don't know, do you?

Those flowers on the lawn of 515 North Cedar street, certainly are pretty.

W. H. Cover, one of the older residents of Edensburg, Sharon and New Castle, is enthusiastic about memories of the singing of Ira D. Sankey, the man who was born and raised in Edensburg and won fame over United States for his singing of sacred songs. Mr. Cover recounted recently about the last time he heard Sankey sing—years ago, in the Armory at Pittsburgh. The house was packed and never was an audience more impressed with anything than with Mr. Sankey's presentation of sacred songs.

Young Pa Newc saw a bottle of milk on the steps of a Long avenue home that proved to be a delusion. 'Twas not a bottle of milk. It was an all white cat sitting on its haunches, gazing patiently at the door that would eventually open to let it in.

Toddy, Grant street businessman, today stated that the traffic menace at North Jefferson and Grant street would be alleviated, in his opinion were an amber light erected. "The amber light would slow automobiles down," he said. Greensburg, according to Toddy, would solve the situation there with amber lights.

TEXAS ATTORNEY KILLS SELF IN HIS JAIL CELL

time later the explosion occurred. The upper portion of Payne's body was badly mangled, the chest being torn away. Death was instantaneous.

One of his fellow prisoners, who returned to Payne's side after the rest of the inmates had left, was standing nearby when the charge of dynamite exploded. He was hurled against a wall and partially stunned, but was otherwise uninjured. He said he had not seen the explosive which came near taking his own life.

Confesses Crime
Payne confessed several weeks ago that he placed a triple charge of dynamite, incorporated in a crude infernal machine, in his automobile and that it took his wife's life. She was blown to bits and the car demolished as she drove through an Amarillo residential section, and her young son was permanently crippled.

Payne, an attorney, admitted the crime after police had obtained a statement from Mrs. Verona Thompson, his former secretary, in which she revealed the lawyer's infatuation for her.

In his confession, covering more than 60 typewritten pages, Payne said that he had tried a half dozen times to take his wife's life, experimenting with guns, poison, gas, explosives and the possibilities of drowning. It was his second home-made infernal machine which killed her.

Authorities here were attempting today to communicate with relatives of the dead man.

TOUR OF POTATO GROWERS SHOWS POTATO CROP FAIR

largest potato farms in this locality. Sprays were used regularly throughout the summer, careful attention given them, and as a result they will have a fairly good crop, in comparison to crops in other districts. The drought of the past several months has undoubtedly caused damage, according to the county farm agent, and the potato crop will be much thinner than in normal years, but it did not do near the damage that was expected.

No estimate of the county potato yield could be made until the potatoes are taken from the ground. However, one of the Mercer fields visited had been dug and had given a yield of 100 bushels to an acre and the other had given 200 bushels to an acre.

During the tour, Mr. McCulloch and Mr. Schultz discussed some interesting details with the growers, and some helpful points were obtained from the growers whose farms they visited.

A demonstration of how a solution of calcium chloride kills "quack grass" interested the group at the Robinson farm. They saw a piece of ground to which the spray had been applied and saw how very successfully this weed can be annihilated. When nothing is done to a plot of ground where the weed has started, it soon crowds growing crops and results in great damage.

INTENSIVE HUNT UNDER WAY FOR SLAYER OF GIRL

cently. The slayer drove a bantam car, new on the market, police learned, and as only a limited number of these have been sold, police hope to trace all of them.

Garrotted, the throat trussed with the piano wire and the head beaten, the Appel child's body was found in an alley yesterday morning near her home. She had been criminally assaulted.

Many Questioned.
Acting on the belief that someone had seen the killer watching the child before the abduction and knew him, Detective Captain Horace Hamilton last night called in 100 residents of the neighborhood for questioning. Hamilton instructed the effort to wash away bloodstains in the nearby barn where the child was killed as evidence that the slayer realized that acquaintances of his had seen him in the vicinity. The barn is near the Appel girl's home.

Rewards totaling $2,000 have been added to the intensity of the man-hunt and authorities, fearing a lynching attempt, have taken care to safeguard any suspects who are arrested. Posses of citizens have joined in the search for the slayer.

AMERICA'S GREAT DROUGHT

By Arthur DeV. Carpenter

The present summer has experienced the worst drought in the history of the U. S. weather bureau, established in 1870. At St. Louis the river water gauges in the Mississippi show the water to be far below normal. The Mississippi valley has had only one-fifth its usual rain; the Ohio valley only about one-third to one-half.

COUNTY OFFICERS ARREST FOUR ON LOTTERY CHARGES

dwellings of George Gabriel at 1127 Moravia street and surprised the four in a second floor back room at 1:45 a. m.

Find Many Pool Slips
George Gabriel, the proprietor of the house pleaded guilty to a charge of operating the New York clearing house pool according to the officials. The other three admitted their guilt as being agents for Gabriel, police said. Joseph Gabriel, 21 arrested in the raid, is a nephew of the proprietor of the establishment.

County authorities believe that the place was the leading clearing pool house headquarters in the county, serving as a sub-station to the Pittsburgh district, they report. Amount of cash found in the raid was not disclosed, but is believed to have been several thousands of dollars.

Authorities report that they found a complete headquarters for both the clearing house and a baseball pool at the Moravia street home. Two bushels of pool slips, one containing the stubs or receipts of sold pool tickets, were confiscated by the authorities. Among other equipment found was an adding machine.

The case of the quartet will be brought before the September grand jury.

Other arrests are reported pending.

PAPER EXPRESSES DOUBT ANDREE AND COMPANIONS FOUND

er Bratvaag had discovered Andree's camp.

Captain Jensen, according to the exchange telegraph dispatch, was reported to have been seen last night in Tromsø, although previously he was reported to have left that port aboard a steamer to meet the Bratvaag.

The newspaper "B. T." is an illustrated daily. No other publication thus far has thrown any doubt upon the discovery, which has created unprecedented interest among scientists and explorers, as well as the general public.

No direct word has been received from Dr. Horn or members of his expedition, due to the fact that Bratvaag is equipped only with a wireless receiving set and has no facilities for sending. The ship has been ordered to return to port as speedily as possible, in order that the full story of the momentous discovery may be made known to the world.

The newspaper "B. T." does not divulge the grounds on which it bases its theory that only the remains of Andree's equipment were found at the White Island camp.

Present Program Friday Evening

About six or seven hundred people gathered at the South Side swimming pool better known as Big Run dam on Friday night when the Melody Boys under the direction of Louis Mastrangelo gave a musical performance which was enjoyed by all present. "The Melody Boys" are soon going to Wheeling, West Virginia, where they will broadcast.

NORWAY EAGERLY AWAITS DIARY OF EXPLORERS' FATE

Polar attempt, which will not be known until the sealer Bratvaag arrives with the bodies, records and other relics found embedded in the ice of the camp.

Two Years On Island
"From evidence received so far, it is not out of possibility that Andree and his two companions lived for two years on White Island," said Dr. Hoel.

The broken ice of this section would have made it impossible for them to go any distance. "They were well equipped with provisions, guns and munitions. It seems that after reaching White Island they built a stone hut and depended on their rifles for ice-bear and walrus for food after their own supplies gave out."

"The severe winter completely covered their hut, and spring laid a film of ice on it. Another winter's snow then covered the hut and the stones cracked, sending the three men to certain doom."

Secrecy Ordered
Dr. Hoel's report gave some indication of the terrific struggle the three men must have waged against death, as well as of their long, trying vigil in the icy wilderness of the north, awaiting rescue that never came. "It must have been the most desperate and the grimmest imprisonment of all history," the scientist said. "Perhaps Andree's diary will tell us something of it. It is certain, however, that Andree's balloon never travelled very far."

Dr. Hoel's theory is at variance with the earlier belief Andree's balloon had reached within 500 miles of the pole before it came down, and that the explorers had tramped over 200 miles of ice and snow to their final resting place.

The Swedish government, according to an official announcement, has ordered that Dr. Gunnar Horn, leader of the expedition which found the camp, turn over the diary and log found on White Island immediately upon his arrival. Wireless messengers, have been sent to Dr. Horn and his companions cautioning them to preserve utmost secrecy until a full report of the find has been made to the Swedish government.

DRAMATIC TEACHER WEDS PHILADELPHIAN

A wedding of interest to New Castle people was that performed Wednesday, August 27, at the home of Mrs. Nancy Kleister of Kiesters, when her daughter, Martha, became the bride of Joy R. Stunkard of Philadelphia.

The bride was charming in a gown of green transparent velvet, trimmed in ecru lace with an old fashioned cameo pin and earrings, which were once her grandmother's and worn by her on her wedding day, seventy years ago.

Rev. J. Harvey McCormick of Slippery Rock performed the ceremony before a background of greenery made bright with masses of golden glow. The wedding march was softly played by Mrs. Clyde Humphrey of Slippery Rock.

Other rooms in the home were effectively decorated with summer flowers and in the dining room covers were laid for thirty guests and a color scheme of green and white was cleverly carried out at the bride's table, where the centerpiece was formed of poppies and love mist. Orange and yellow were used on the other tables with bowls of marigolds in yellow shades as the centerpiece. A delicious dinner supplemented the ceremony and was served by the ladies of the United Presbyterian church of Slippery Rock.

Pieces of the bride's cake, tied in green and white, were given to the guests. Many beautiful gifts were received by Mr. and Mrs. Stunkard to start them on their housekeeping journey.

The bride has been a teacher of dramatic art in the New Castle schools for a number of years and Mr. Stunkard is employed by the McCloskey Construction company of Philadelphia, where they will reside after an eastern trip.

CURTIS AIRPORT, Chicago, Aug. 30.—A rousing welcome followed by three official receptions awaited the arrival of the National Air races today of Capt. Wolfgang Von Gronau and his three companions on the latest trans-Atlantic flight.

The welcoming reception will be held here at the airport when a delegation of city officials, and various officers of the German-American organizations of Chicago will greet the fliers. Two other receptions are planned for tonight and another will be held at the home of Dr. Hugo Symon, German consul, tomorrow night.

With an escort of planes led by Lieut. Jimmy Doolittle, famous stunt flier, the German fliers are expected to soar above the race meeting this afternoon on their arrival. They will then go to the Great Lakes Naval Station, leaving their seaplane and return to watch the progress of the "Olympiad of the air."

Inquest Started

An inquest was begun today into the fatal crash that marred yesterday's program of speed races, stunts and exhibitions, killing George Pernic of New York. Pernic flying a ship of his own radical design, nosedived to his death in an exhibition take off before 50,000 spectators.

Investigation indicated that the small seventy horsepower motor was not powerful enough to pull the ship out of its plunge. Equipped with an auxiliary wing attached to the ceiling in front of the main wing, Pernic's craft had been designed to prevent the type of crash which did occur.

Four closed-course races were on today's program. First will be the men's free-for-all race followed by Women's cabin ship race and the women's cabin plane race. The concluding speed race is the men's free-for-all, limited to planes powered by motors of 800 cubic inch displacement.

keep it. His family was destitute. A mosquito bit him, gangrene set in, doctors told him he must have the leg cut off. That would mean the loss of his job.

Helped by the good leg and the bad leg, he climbed to the roof, jumped off and died.

It is hoped and presumed that he has found a better job somewhere else.

PEACE AND QUIET mean a long life. The French to "peace and quiet" add good wine. The oldest woman in France, Madame Laneau, lives at Dijon, capital of Burgundy, the province of marvellously fine wine, if it is permitted to apply "fine" to anything connected with the demon rum. Madame Laneau has lived soberly, as the French do, eating carefully, never drinking water without putting wine in it, never in her life traveling by train or automobile, she feels very well.

FRANCE HAS ON hand a war that all will approve. Armed cutters of the French Navy are fighting giant fish "belugas," or dolphins, that eat millions of good fish and destroy gear of fishermen along the coast of Brittany.

Protected by slippery, hard skin, and thick fat, they are hard to kill, and continue their murderous work.

Suppose that in a city of five million inhabitants, there lived a few giants eating smaller citizens, each giant devouring thousands every day. Such is life in the ocean.

The marvel is that any fish survive. The number of eggs in a shad roe explain it.

A pair of shad in a few years if all the young survive, and raised families, would make the Atlantic and Pacific shad banks.

IN NEW YORK, Eugene Van Clief discovered the truth in Kipling's idea that the female is more deadly than the male—when you select the wrong female.

Van Clief was fascinated by a lady who had killed her husband with a knife, admired her in court, and almost married her, afterwards.

GOV. ROOSEVELT, of New York, will ask the legislature "to make up a practical definite study of unemployment insurance, avoiding, of course, any form of dote."

The difference between the British dole and unemployment insurance, if the state pays for the insurance, is not a great difference.

WE ALL DEPEND on each other, and our sad depression will make some, especially the prosperous, realize that when the little man suffers the big man feels the pinch.

For instance, when a small man can't afford to buy his new automobile, even on the installment plan, the big owner of railroad stocks feels the pinch severely.

THE DROP IN automobile sales alone means to big railroads a loss of about $20,000,000 a month.

To be prosperous yourself, make others prosperous. To keep yourself safe and healthy in your own fine house, keep disease and plague out of the slums.

ENGLAND BELIEVES that the Labor and Liberal parties may unite, following a conference on unemployment between MacDonald and Lloyd George.

If the Labor Party and the Tory Party both should make up their minds to accept Lloyd George's leadership and advice, as they did so gladly when the war frightened them England might be better off.

Graham Is Given Another Chance

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 30.—Franklin J. Graham, popular young Philadelphia lawyer, and a former assistant U. S. attorney here, was given another chance today to appear before U. S. Commissioner Howard Long for a hearing.

Unless he appears before the commissioner, however, before September 2 he will be declared a fugitive from justice, Long said.

Graham failed to appear yesterday at the seventh hearing date set for him and at the request of the U. S. district attorney's office Commissioner Long ordered his $5,000 bail bond forfeited and issued a warrant for his arrest. Later, however, the commissioner changed his mind and decided to give Graham one more chance.

"If he fails to appear then I will order the warrant served and the bail forfeited once and for all," he said.

Graham was ordered to appear before the commissioner to show cause why he should not be sent to Scranton to face a liquor conspiracy charge.

tions, going back to the life of old-time California because old-time Californians learned by experience that that is the way to live.

They don't spend all of their time on these country estates. But neither did the old-time Californians. Don Jose Antonio Julian de la Guerra Noriega owned several great ranches—the Simi, the San Julian, Los Alamos, the Tapo, the Conejo. But he lived in Santa Barbara in a town house and went out to the ranches with companies of guests—just as Lord Armour-Mitchell does today.

Dwight Murphy owns the great Los Prietos Rancho in the Santa Ynez Valley back of Santa Barbara. He raises palomino horses—beautiful creatures, cream colored, with white tails and manes. This is a millionaires' game, because palominos are cross-bred and the colts often slip back to other colors.

Charles E. Perkins has the Alisal Rancho, also in the Santa Ynez, a great estate of 10,000 acres where he raises fine stock.

Syl Spalding of Beverly Hills has the Teolote Ranch of 1600 acres of rolling hills and wooded valleys, where he raises fine horses. He has a saddle brought from Mexico which is studded with silver and embroidered with silver thread. It is valued at $5000. Mr. Spalding even has oxen and an ancient carreta with squealing wooden wheels on the Teolote. He has two fine oxen from the Terrazas Ranch in Mexico. They are named Tequila and Mescal.

Mrs. C. R. Holmes, who was Katherine McDonald, the film star, lives with her husband on the Feather Hill Ranch near Santa Barbara. Their specialty is a zoo of wild animals and remarkable birds as well as blooded stock.

Mrs. John J. Mitchell, who was Lolita Arnold and her husband, have a gorgeous Montecito estate, also a wonderful cattle ranch named Juany Lolita, which has four miles of frontage on the Santa Ynez River and comprises 6388 acres of an old Spanish grant. They raise fine blooded sheep, cattle and horses.

Many other great fortunes are being used to perpetuate the old life of California in a new way; but these will suggest the idea.

Farewell Service In Baptist Church Sunday Evening

Two Of The Younger Members
Leave To Take Up Work In Chicago, Ill.

WILLIAM F. HAMMOND

A service of unusual character will be held Sunday evening at seven-thirty o'clock (E. S. T.), in the First Baptist church. A farewell will be given by the church to two of its young people who have devoted their lives to Christian service.

Miss Frances Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Wilson, 422 Summer avenue, leaves next week to begin her work as a kindergarten teacher in the South Chicago Neighborhood House, under the American Baptist Home Mission Board. Miss Wilson's work will be largely among Mexican and Polish children. Miss Wilson graduated from the local high school in 1926. For three years she has attended The Baptist Institute for Christian Workers in Philadelphia, from which she graduated in June. Miss Wilson's ability manifested itself in the fact that she gained the highest honor the school can give in being declared winner of the Senior Essay Contest. This prize essay she gave at the commencement program. Friends of Miss Wilson will be delighted to know that she will deliver this essay Sunday evening, the subject being: "The Tapestry of Life."

William F. Hammond, son of Mr. and Mrs. William F. Hammond of Pine street, is a graduate of the 1923 class of the New Castle high school, and has been employed in the American Can Company. Mr. Hammond expects to leave Monday for Chicago where he will enroll in the Missionary Course of the Moody Bible Institute, in preparation for anticipated service on the foreign mission field. Mr. Hammond will speak on "When Jesus Came Into My Heart."

The pastor, George M. Landis will give the closing message of the program, on the subject, "Big Investments."

Presbyterian Choir Broadcasts Tuesday

New Castle Quartet To Give Request Performance Over Station WKBN

So favorably was the radio program of secular numbers which the First Presbyterian church choir broadcasted over station WKBN from Youngstown last Sunday night received that a request performance of sacred pieces has been arranged to Tuesday evening, September 2.

The choir, according to the announcement today, will be on the air, commencing at 8:30 o'clock.

In arranging the program it was felt that nothing more appropriate could be chosen for the occasion than some of the older hymns. One of the numbers, "Under His Wings" was composed by Ira D. Sankey, who at one time was a prominent New Castle citizen. The rendition of the hymn at the evening services of the local church has met with much favorable comment.

Next Tuesday evening's program follows:

Come, O Thou Traveller Unknown
Noble
Who Could It Be, Harkness
Lo, It Is I, Faure-Shelly
The Quartet
Sheep and Lambs, Homer
Madeline Rugh
Under His Wings, Sankey
Almost Persuaded, Bliss
Good Night Beloved, Piusotti
The Quartet

Composing the quartet are Lillian Butcher Stambaugh, soprano; Madeline Rugh, contralto; George E. MacDonald Jr., tenor; Charles Richards, bass and Thomas Weber Jr., director and organist.

Sentence Sermons

By Rev. Roy D. Smith, D. D.

NO MAN WHO EVER LIVED—

A life of hatred ever died with a smile on his lips.
A life of ease has ever done a work worth remembering.
A life of public service ever escaped public abuse.
A life of industry ever failed to develop character.
A life of prayer ever failed to get answers from God.
A life of selfishness ever found enduring happiness.
A life of faith ever found God entirely deserting him.

THE TOWN DOCTOR "DOCTOR OF TOWNS" SAYS WHAT APPLIES TO PEOPLE, APPLIES TO A COMMUNITY

Communities are people. What applies to the "improvement" of people applies to the improvement of communities.

One of the best things any individual can do for his or her improvement and general good—financially, socially and, yes, morally—is to go to some disinterested person who knows "people" and be told frankly, impartially and truthfully where he is weak and where strong. You sit down and listen, and learn the things that make people like or dislike you. Get the unvarnished truth. See and know yourself as others see and know you.

You may be the finest kind of a person, but other people may consider you a crab, a grouch, an agnostic. Have you ever asked yourself why you can't make friends with certain people? Do you ever wonder why some people avoid you—even snub you sometimes?

Did you ever sit down and talk with someone about yourself? That is, say to someone exactly what you think—sorta think out loud?

If you have never done this you are not the man or woman it is in you to be for two reasons:

First, without doing such you are blind to many of your own powers. You are too close to yourself—so close to your own picture that you can't see the frame.

Second, without doing such you are more or less an individualist as far as yourself is concerned. An individualist has a one-track mind. He thinks a thing so long that to him it becomes fact. There are more individualists in insane asylums than any one other class of people.

These are people—and business people too—who are afraid of the truth about themselves. They would rather live on in ignorance. Ignorance is not "bliss"—Today, ignorance is a "blister."

It is worth a hundred-dollar bill of any person's money to know himself—to be told what others see in him, what people like and dislike. You don't have to pay that, but it's worth it.

You can't actually see yourself as others see you. When you look in a mirror what you see is altogether different from what others see when they look at you. They look from the outside in, you look at yourself from the inside out.

To get the most out of life—any way you want to look at life—you must know yourself. To know yourself you must be "big" enough, have nerve enough, gumption enough and sense enough to seek the truth about yourself—to ask for, listen to, and then stand the gaff of "taking" what's the matter with you.

"Little" people are afraid to do it, and excuse themselves on the ground that such is a lot of "hokey." They say, "that may be all right for 'so and so' but I have been getting along for up teen years without it, and am beyond all that."

They are not beyond it; they never have caught up with it. If they are not offering an alibi they are just plain dumb. You need it, I need it, and they need it. And just the same every community needs to see itself as it looks to those who are not a part of it.

River Surveys History Given By H. S. Warwick

National Waterways, Magazine Devoted To River Transportation, Has Article

CANAL WAS BOOSTED
IN OHIO IN 1824

Andrew Carnegie Revived Question In 1879 Which Has Continued Since

posals to build a canal from the Ohio river to Lake Erie dates back as far as 1824, the Ohio legislature having enacted an act authorizing an examination into the practicability of connecting Lake Erie with the Ohio river by way of a canal.

No impetus was given the project, and it was not revived again until 1870, according to the article, when Andrew Carnegie was instrumental in causing to be created a commission of the legislature to investigate the feasibility of such a project.

In 1894, the Pittsburgh Chamber of Commerce appointed a provisional ship canal committee to make a survey.

The matter was revived again in 1905 when both Ohio and Pennsylvania chartered an organization of the Lake Erie & Ohio Ship Canal company, and an act of congress was passed in June of that year.

In 1910 the Lake Erie & Ohio River Canal association was formed with W. A. Magee of Pittsburgh as chairman.

From then on until the current year of 1930, Mr. Warwick relates various efforts which were made to revive interest in this pertinent project, but it was not until 1929, when Congressman Swick and Senator Reed introduced bills into congress that any legal impetus was given the matter, and in November of that year the Beaver, Mahoning & Shenango River Improvement association was formed at a meeting in this city.

Survey Under Way.
This association has secured a preliminary survey of the three rivers which is now under way.

At a hearing held February 4, 1930, the chief of the army engineers met with proponents of various canal projects between the Ohio river and Lake Erie, and it was announced that the Beaver and Mahoning valley route might submit additional data concerning their respective routes. This time extends to September 1, 1930.

If the army engineers now conducting the survey in the district approve the project, it will undoubtedly establish the eventual river-to-lake route via the Beaver and Mahoning valley route.

Considerable other data on the project is given by Mr. Warwick, much of which has been published heretofore.

If an object is immersed in water, the pressure from the bottom towards the top greater than that from the top down, or is the pressure uniform throughout, regardless of the depth of the water or size of the object?

At any given point within a liquid, the pressure is the same in any direction. However, the pressure is not the same at every point throughout the liquid but varies directly with the depth beneath the surface. Therefore the pressure at the bottom would be greater than the pressure at the top.

Who is conceded to have the most beautiful voice among actresses of the talking pictures?

No authoritative test, contest or decision has taken place to determine which actress has the most beautiful voice. If a decisive contest could be held, it would doubtless be won by a former star of the spoken drama, many of whom are now in Hollywood.

What nation is considered to have the world's finest watchmakers? Some years ago the Swiss watchmakers were popularly regarded as the best in the world. Today, however, the best watches in the world are made in the United States.

How can the cartoons of "Tad" be running now that he is dead?

"Tad" had been drawing cartoons for years and had a supply of unpublished cartoons at the time of his death, May 2, 1929. His cartoons were so popular that it is possible that the entire series will be repeated after the unpublished ones have been exhausted.

Comet Plane
Ready To Try
Flight Test

CAMDEN, N. J. Aug. 30.—The comet plane, variously described as the ugly duckling of vehicles, and designed to perform on land, sea and air, is about ready to again flap its wings and try the upper reaches of the atmosphere, according to word reaching here from the mis-shapen craft's hangar at East Berlin, a little village 20 miles southeast of this city. Rolled out of its hangar a few weeks ago by Wendel Wobido, the German aviator who conceived the strange craft, it fairly stunned spectators. Even the most enthusiastic readers of Jules Verne opened their eyes. It was pushed down into the lake in front of its hangar and floated about while the startled spectators looked on. Then it skimmed across the water, but despite all maneuvers it refused to take to the air. This was due to a faulty motor, Wobido said. Now the motor has been adjusted and the queer looking craft is to have another public debut.

The vehicle does not resemble an ordinary amphibian plane in any sense of the word. It resembles a fish with its head chopped off more than any other known thing common to the ordinary laymen. In shape it appears like a barrel with both ends open, a hump-like cabin on top, and a motor beneath its prow. The prow is made of wire with an ordinary four-bladed propeller. The real end has a regulation airplane tail, but with an unusually large rudder. It can be parked in an ordinary garage.

Wobido asserts this queer looking brain idea of his will fly 300 miles an hour and can make a non-stop flight from New York to Germany in 12 hours despite its lack of wings. He has spent seven months constructing it.

Foster's Weather Forecast

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30.—Last week of August is expected to average below normal temperatures and about normal precipitation generally over the continent. During and following storm wave, expected to cross continent during week centering on August 25, greatest precipitation increase will be expected on central and north Pacific slope; this increase in precipitation will be expected to spread eastward during September but not to become excessive; parts of central and north Pacific slope and from Rockies some distance eastward will probably remain too dry for best results, but general average cropweather of continent is expected to be favorable during September. September will be a moderate month in all phases of cropweather and storm force excepting during and just following storm wave of severe force expected to cross continent during week centering on 22; preceding this storm center, a windy, blustery period and following storm center a northern cold wave and southern cool wave will be expected. Mild storm wave centering on 17 will probably cause high winds in southwest and on western plateau, west halves of sections 3 and 5, following storm center, but period equinoctial storms. Moderate storms centering on 10 and 30 will be warm storm centers and will not be followed by cold waves. While September is expected to average above normal temperatures and about normal precipitation for the continent, no excessive heat nor large areas of excessive precipitation will be expected. Mild storm wave centering on 2 will occur during a period of below normal temperatures. Excepting killing frosts and dry spots mentioned above, month will average better than normal cropweather.

Start Now To Prevent Children's Winter Colds

How can one keep children from having colds in winter?

First, guard them against infection, advises Dr. Rachel Ash in "Hygeia" for September. See that they have adequate sleep; a diet well proportioned in tissue-building and energy-contributing constituents and containing sufficient vitamins; activities neither excessively stimulated nor over-fatigued. In regions in which there is little winter sunshine, a course of ultra-violet treatments under medical supervision will improve the color, appetite and resistance of children.

Colds would be less frequent if more attention were paid to proper ventilation. Dr. Ash continues. Hot, dry rooms are ideal incubating chambers for disease germs. The atmosphere in them encourages the growth of germs and by producing unhealthy dryness in the tissues of the nose increases vulnerability to infection. To insure maximum efficiency of the skin, the air should be kept moist and freely moving and should be kept at a temperature of from 68 to 70 degrees.

Revolt In Argentine Halted By Government

One Death And Fourteen Injured In Wake Of Huge Demonstration

President Hipolito Irigoyen Is Wildly Acclaimed

(International News Service) BUENOS AIRES, Aug. 30.—One death and fourteen injuries followed in the wake of a huge demonstration by supporters of President Hipolito Irigoyen, whose government today remained solidly in control of the Argentine.

The only shooting incident occurred as hundreds of Irigoyenists were assembling for a public parade as a challenge to revolutionists who were reported plotting an attack on the government, an automobile carrying several men swept around the corner of Caseros and Juy streets in the heart of the city, firing approximately 25 shots in rapid succession. One Irigoyenist fell dead as the crowd surged to safety.

The killing momentarily threw the city into intense excitement, speeding a rumor from lip to lip that the expected coup against President Irigoyen had begun. Quick dissemination of the true facts by government supporters dispelled the nervous tension however.

The Irigoyenists parade the main thoroughfares throughout the night preceded by a long auto caravan with a rear guard of approximately 4,000 youthful marchers, the paraders proclaimed their loyalty to the government and president of the Argentine by shouting and singing.

"Vivi Irigoyen!" repeatedly cried the paraders. Their enthusiasm was spent largely on empty walls and deserted streets, however, as apparently many of the Buenos Aires residents preferred sleep to the revolution, and political excitement.

Forces Augmented
The government, although minimizing reports that a major revolt plot was brewing, continued to augment the military forces within the city. A regiment of crack horsemen, the Eighth Cavalry, was brought out of the provinces and held in readiness to ride down any outbreaks. A few additional machine guns also made their appearance, especially in the vicinity of the executive palace and government buildings.

Mystery continued to cloak the true underlying motive and the nature of information which caused government heads to act with drastic force.

Gypsies Robbed By Four Bandits

Trailed From Youngstown To Near Butler And Held Up

BUTLER, Pa., Aug. 30.—Four bandits trailed four gypsies from Youngstown to a lonely road at McBride Crossing, near here, waited until they had parked their car and were asleep, then surrounded the camp and robbed them of $158, the gypsies told Butler police.

The gunmen are said by the victims to have held up the father of one of the gypsies earlier in Youngstown, according to Frank Smith, leader of the band. Smith was traveling with his wife, his sister and her husband.

Warrants charging highway robbery were sworn out before Alderman William G. Phillips against John, William, James and John Doe. An officer left for Cleveland armed with the document. The gypsy leader said the license number of the high powered car used by the bandits had been issued there.

Police, checking the story told by the gypsies, have been unable to verify reports that the bandit car had been seen in this vicinity.

Believe Diamond Is In London For He Uses Telephone

Alleged Jack "Legs" Diamond Calls London Paper And Announces His Arrival

(International News Service)

LONDON, Aug. 30.—Belief that Jack "Legs" Diamond, notorious New York gangster, had evaded a cordon of inspectors and detectives at Southampton and landed in England yesterday unobserved from the White Star liner Olympic was expressed by Scotland Yard officials here today.

The belief that Diamond had successfully disembarked from the liner on its arrival yesterday, and was at present at large in London, grew following receipt of a telephone call by the London Evening Standard from a man identifying himself as Diamond, and the checking of two telegrams believed to have been dispatched by the gangster following his arrival.

The man who telephoned the Standard put in his call from a telephone pay station within the London district. He asked for the "City Editor." And when the English equivalent, the chief sub-editor of the Standard responded, the man said: "Good afternoon. This is Jack Diamond speaking. I think the joke is on you. I read your delightful article about me in your paper as I was coming up on the train."

"You are looking in the wrong direction. You're quite wrong in supposing I was coming over on the Baltic. We don't generally advertise the boats we sail on. That would be a very foolish thing, wouldn't it? You'll find out in the very, very few hours I am over here."

Polish Parliament Reported Dissolved

WARSAW, Aug. 30.—The parliament of Poland was dissolved by a decree of President Moscicki today.

He added that constitutional reforms were "necessary for the country's welfare."

New elections for the diet, or lower house, will take place on November 16, and for the senate on November 23.

Former President Of Peru Is Being Held As Prisoner

Ex-President Leguia Of Peru Is Imprisoned On Island Of San Lorenzo

(International News Service)

LIMA, Aug. 30.—Ex-President Leguia of Peru, only a few days ago known as the "strong man" of Latin America, became a prisoner today on the island of San Lorenzo.

The Peruvian cruiser Almirante Grau where the ousted South American dictator sought refuge after his forced resignation Sunday night, surrendered him to the prison authorities presumably at the direction of President Sanchez Cerro, who has sworn to prosecute and punish those of the fallen regime who robbed the public treasury.

Senor Leguia, it was understood, expressed deep indignation and offense over his confinement in a prison, formerly occupied chiefly by political offenders. Ironically enough, the strong military guard in charge of the island is commanded by Lieutenant Llosa, who served a sentence there for political offense against Leguia's government.

In the meantime President Sanchez announced Harold C. Grow, former United States naval officer, would be arraigned by a Peruvian military tribunal on charges of having violated "the public right." Specifically, the new Peruvian head charged the American with accepting orders from deposed Leguia to fly over Arequipa and bomb the region. Sanchez Cerro's military headquarters were located there, and he began his revolt in the Arequipa region.

Grow, under Leguia, held the rank of captain and chief of the Peruvian air forces.

Levine Ordered To Pay Costs In Disorderly Case

Sharon Alderman Dismisses Charges Against Woman And Makes Levine Pay Costs

(International News Service)

SHARON, Pa., Aug. 30.—Charges of disorderly conduct, brought by Isaac Levine, father of the famous trans-Atlantic flier, Charles A. Levine, against Mrs. Eugene Kratz, red-headed World War widow of Budapest and Berlin, had been dismissed today by Alderman H. G. Thomas following a preliminary hearing.

Costs of the case were placed against Levine.

The elderly man charged the woman had been bothering him all this month, demanding that he return $3,000 and two diamond rings he had secured from her in Germany. Levine attempted to prove to the court that he had never known the woman.

Mrs. Kratz told the court that she had met the flier's father in Germany while he was touring the country with his son following the famous New York-Germany hop made by Levine and Clarence Chamberlin.

The woman testified that she had come to the United States to get a settlement and upon her arrival had learned that he was married.

She has a breach of promise suit pending in Youngstown, Ohio.

Mrs. Kratz is the mother of two children.

Famous Dog Is Killed By Auto

Prize Collie, Made Famous By Albert Payson Terhune, Is Killed By Machine

(International News Service)

POMPTON LAKES, N. J., Aug. 30.—Sunnybank Jean is dead.

To many, who ordinarily wouldn't know a Pomeranian from an Irish wolfhound, that name meant something today.

Sunnybank Jean was the prize Collie that Albert Payson Terhune made famous in his magazine stories, read by thousands.

Ironically enough, it was that very fame that led to Sunnybank Jean's death.

Mr. and Mrs. Caleb H. Norris of Detroit, were among the many readers who admired Mr. Terhune for his tales, and when they came east on their vacation in their car they decided to visit Terhune's home.

They drove in at the main gates and were proceeding up the drive when Sunnybank Jean ran out in the path of their car and was killed.

Terhune called a state trooper and had Norris arrested on a charge of malicious mischief. Norris settled later, out of court, for $100, which Terhune promptly turned over to the local police and firemen's fund.

"I am getting sick of having my place made into a tripper's paradise," Terhune explained. "Every day hundreds of people come to my house to see the dogs. Despite my 'no trespassing' signs, I have counted as many as thirty five cars on my front lawn, and despite a sign reading 'Please drive slowly' they tear down the driveway, often injuring the dogs. The Norris car skidded twelve feet before it could stop, and only the other day another of my dogs was hurt by an uninvited guest."

You will remember that Andrew Carnegie was determined to die poor. What an ideal police officer he would have been.

Prominent Surgeon In Philadelphia Is Victim Of Suicide

Dr. Emory G. Alexander Slashes Throat With Pen Knife

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 30.—Slashing his throat with a pocket knife in a fit of nervous depression following a delicate operation, Dr. Emory G. Alexander, socially prominent surgeon and son-in-law of Dr. John B. Deaver, famous Philadelphia physician, was pronounced a suicide today.

Alexander was being driven to his home at Wyncote from Abington hospital when he jumped out of the machine and fled into Baedewood Park. Philip Harkins his chauffeur pursued Alexander for a short distance, but soon lost him in the dense undergrowth.

An hour later Abington police found the surgeon's slashed body with his pocket knife lying beside it. He had recovered from a nervous breakdown recently.

Dr. Alexander was 50 years old. He was a graduate of the University of North Carolina and Jefferson Medical College. For a time he was an associate professor or surgery at the University of Pennsylvania and a member of the Episcopal Hospital staff.

He is survived by his widow, formerly Miss Harriet C. Deaver, and two daughters and a son.

Harrisville G. A. G. Vet, Enroute Home, Praises Cincinnati

Says Pennsylvania Boys Made Best Showing In Encampment Parade

Homeward bound from the Cincinnati national encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic, J. M. Bailey of Harrisville, passed through New Castle this morning. Mr. Bailey stopped at the Y. M. C. A. for a few minutes while awaiting the departure of the Grove City bus.

"I'll tell you" the aged veteran said emphatically, "Pennsylvania's boys at Cincy made the best showing by far in the parade. I'm not braggin'—it's the truth." Comrade Bailey admitted that he enjoyed every minute of the visit.

Attending state and national encampments is a hobby of the Mercer county and he's been at Boston, Portland, Me., and other places for national encampments. He was in New Castle to attend the state meetings this year.

Mr. Bailey's only regret is that his fellow comrade, J. C. Bovard, also of Harrisville, couldn't attend with him. They had made plans to go together but Bovard fell sick. They've been going to encampments together for years.

Both served in the 105th regiment during the Civil war.

Former Postmaster Held As Embezzler

Embezzlement That Happened Eight Years Ago Is Brought To Light With Arrest

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 30.—Escaping postal authorities for eight years, Philip Timmis, 69, today faced charges of embezzlement in the federal district court.

Timmis was returned here from Cleveland, Ohio, charged with taking $1,126.01 from postal funds at Whitaker, Pa., where he was postmaster at the time.

Whitaker disappeared from home April 4, 1922 and an indictment was returned against him May 4, of the same year after authorities found a shortage in his accounts.

Recently, postoffice inspector J. P. Nolan learned that Timmis was living.

Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Dickson extended the hospitality of their home in Edenburg to the members of the W. A. G. club and their husbands on Friday evening.

Twenty-five were present to enjoy a corn roast. Corn and winners were roasted over a huge bonfire in a nearby meadow and the guests were seated at tables set outside the Dickson home.

The later hours were spent pleasantly with music and social chat. The success of the affair was largely due to the efforts of the host, hostess and the committee which consisted of Mrs. William Leitch, Mrs. Carl Houk and Mrs. William Mauermann.

Special guests were Mrs. Herman Alexander and her three children.

Plans were made for another party to be held on a future date. Mrs. Harry Sherman, Mrs. Charles Hopper, Mrs. W. E. Horner and Mrs. Kenneth Walter will make the arrangements for the proposed event.

You are judged in the business world as well as socially by the way you pay your bills. Whereas, a record once clouded may be cleared—it is much wiser and easier to maintain a good record for prompt pay than to rebuild one that was permitted to become unsatisfactory.

Present Play At Auditorium

Carnegie Playground Dramatic Club Gives Fine Program

YOUNG ACTORS SHOW ABILITY

Dramatic activities for the summer reached a climax at the Carnegie Playground auditorium on Friday afternoon when the Dramatic Club under the supervision of Miss Mildred Miller and Miss Katherine McMillin presented to a large and appreciative audience a comedy "The Amateurs". This comedy proved fun at the average amateur performance.

In this ridiculously burlesqued bit of melodrama the orchestra misses its cue, the curtain sticks or rises too soon, the lights go wrong, the actors forget their lines and cues, mix up their speeches, and commit all the other amateur sins to the intense amusement of the audience.

The play concerns Rosalind, daughter of Nathaniel Mossborough who is about to marry Oliver Douglass when his father turns up with an old secret and threatens Nathaniel's ruin unless Rosalind's singing, discovers she is marrying his own son and decides not to blast their happiness.

The play was presented in a splendid manner. Credit for the fine presentation of this performance goes to Miss Mildred Miller and Miss Katherine McMillin, the supervisors. The characters in the play follows:

While every part was well taken care of, Vincent Gallagher at Nathaniel Mossborough and perhaps the most difficult part to play he portrayed this role in a splendid manner. Raymond Must was a close second. This pair along with Miss Maggie DiThomas and Gerald George made their second success, having appeared in a former playground of the summer.

On Tuesday afternoon a junior play entitled "The Fairy Riddle" will be presented under the direction of the supervisors.

As a preface to the performance, Raymond Must in behalf of the Dramatic Club and the older boys and girls of the playground made a fine speech of appreciation of the enjoyment for many years as well as the good it has done. In behalf of the Carnegie Playground boys and girls he thanked the instructors and the officials for all they have done and are still doing in building up character in the boys and girls and helping them to grow into useful, courteous, and happy men and women.

Vaccination For Scarlet Fever Used

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

I have advocated very strongly vaccinating the school child against smallpox, diphtheria and typhoid fever.

There is only one other disease for which there is any claim put forward that an immunity can be created artificially. That is scarlet fever.

The work done on this line is of recent date. It is not nearly so well established as the other work mentioned. I do not think it will do any harm to give the child scarlet fever vaccination, but I am not so sure as I am about typhoid fever, diphtheria and smallpox, that it will give absolute protection.

Fortunately, scarlet fever is not nearly so contagious a disease as the others. You do not hear of children having it as frequently as you do of their having measles. I prove this every year by asking a class of students how many have had measles. Nearly every hand in the class goes up. Then I ask how many have had scarlet fever. About four or five out of a class of 30 raise their hands.

In contagious hospitals, when there is an epidemic of measles and scarlet fever at the same time, practically every child brought in with scarlet fever acquires measles, but very few of the measles patients get scarlet fever.

Measles will go through a school like wildfire. Scarlet fever appears, and hardly more than 2 or 3 per cent of the children get it.

Still, in spite of the fact that it is a very dangerous and fatal disease. It would be a good thing to have some way of preventing it.

The work on the cause and prevention of scarlet fever has been done in the past five or six years. Two sets of physicians worked on it: Dr. Dick and Dr. Dochez of New York.

Dr. Dick and his wife worked at the McCormick Institute for Contagious Diseases. The money to finance their labors was donated by Mr. and Mrs. McCormick. They had lost a child who died of scarlet fever. They wanted to try to find the cause of the disease, to have a cure perfected, and a way of preventing it discovered.

Mrs. Blake and Dochez began to work at about the same time. Both sets of investigators have done brilliant work. So far, in respect to the number of discoveries made, honors are about even between the two groups.

Dr. Dochez undoubtedly deserves the honor of having discovered the germ which causes scarlet fever.

Dr. Dick and his wife produced the disease artificially in man. They also announced a method known as the Dick test, of determining whether any person is susceptible to the disease or not. They also prepared a toxin-antitoxin mixture to use for the prevention of scarlet fever.

The Dick test is similar to the Schick test used in diphtheria, and described in this column earlier this week. It consists in injecting a small amount of scarlet fever toxin under the skin. As in the case of diphtheria, a reddening around the site of the injection indicates that the person is susceptible to scarlet fever. If no redness occurs, it means the person will not catch scarlet fever if exposed.

The Dick test has, however, not proved as certain in its prognostications as the Schick test.

Nor has the preventive treatment for scarlet fever worked out as well as was at first hoped. I wish I could recommend it as enthusiastically as I can preventive vaccination against smallpox, diphtheria and typhoid fever, but I cannot.

Some time everyone hopes we shall also have effective preventive vaccination measures against measles, infantile paralysis, rheumatism, meningitis and whooping cough (which is usually treated with contempt).

Then we may realize the prediction I allowed myself early in the week—we will take every child at about the age of one or two years, give them a course of preventive vaccinations, and at the end of that time be able to say:

"This individual will never have any contagious disease."

Says City Should Be Marked For Benefit Of Strange Aviators

Declaring he is certain that air-men continually pass over the heart of New Castle without knowing their whereabouts, D. Roy Bradford, operator of Bradford airport, on Friday, appealed to property owners to mark roofs of larger structures with the name of the city.

The significance of the request is quickly realized when it is learned that pilots have been known to hover high above downtown streets in their search for some sign or landmark which would serve to direct them on their course.

"The other day," Bradford said, "I was standing at East Washington and Mill street when I saw a strange plane high above. By the actions of the craft I could easily see that the pilot was trying to learn his location. The plane circled over the city, especially the business section, before it continued on its way."

Bradford added that on his western flights in 1928 he had been in similar predicaments and on numerous occasions found himself over a town the name of which he could not ascertain because no name was noticed anywhere.

About the only sign near the city is to be found on the hanger at the airport, where letters each about 20 feet in length, have been painted. That sign, however, is the only suitable sign in the city for the guidance of pilots.

Other aviation centers, according to Bradford, have countless huge signs that help pilots. With New Castle on the map as a city on the Pittsburgh-Cleveland air-mail route, it should not be necessary for visiting aviators to worry about their location when flying over it.

Where signs are lacking, aviators have been known to swoop down to view the name of the place from a railroad station or a store sign.

The sign at Bradford field can be seen from a height of between 6,000 to 7,000 feet on a clear day. Designation on specifications of the Department of Commerce, it is painted in yellow on a black background.

Bradford said that the Chicago Air Races attracted numerous planes which flew over New Castle. He said that in recent days planes have been flying low over the city to find their location.

A sign not only helps to advertise a city to a wandering aviator, but is important as a direction marker, the airport owner said.

Pomona Grangers Plan Visit To Old Economite Settlement

Historical Points Near Harmony To Be Seen On Next Week's Trip

TO GO FROM HERE IN MOTOR CARAVAN

Historic haunts of the old Economites who once inhabited the town of Harmony, Butler county, will be visited by a throng of Pomona Grangers from Lawrence county who plan to go to the neighboring county in a motor caravan on Thursday afternoon September 4.

Plans for the trip were made known today by J. Audley Boak, who with James Fullerton and Herbert Leslie comprise the committee in charge of arrangements.

While it is hoped that all members of Pomona will find it convenient to make the trip in the afternoon, Mr. Boak explained that an evening's grange meeting at a grange hall near Harmony is planned as part of the program and it is hoped all might make an effort to attend this whether or not they are able to go in the afternoon. Arrival at Harmony is scheduled for 4 o'clock.

Points of interest to be visited are many, including the carved stone seat on a high pinnacle near Harmony, where it is said Father Rapp once sat and supervised the doings of his people. They will also inspect the wine cellar beneath the hotel in Harmony and the cemetery where probably 100 or more of the sect were buried.

It was on interesting bit of history that Mr. Boak dwelt upon while explaining the history of the Economites. It was in 1805 when they came to America and settled down to work upon the 9,000 acres around Harmony which Father Rapp had bought the year before. He came here from Germany in 1804, found a suitable tract of land and summoned his followers across.

The Economites in every sense of the word were ardent workers, and as their name implies, were strict economists. They believed it was only right and proper to hoard the money they received, and so became immensely wealthy. There were 300 of them who came to America originally.

A work of master masonry, exemplifying the fine work which they were always known to do, is the stone gate fashioned like a door at the entrance to the cemetery. A wall built around the place in their day remains today more intact than when Father Rapp's workers constructed it.

These and countless other places will be among the points visited next Thursday, and Mr. Boak points out that to miss the trip is to miss a worth while and educational opportunity.

TAXPAYERS RUSH TO SAVE PENALTY

Last Day On Which County Taxes Can Be Paid At Their Face Brings Throng

Last minute taxpayers who wished to avoid paying the collector, thronged the office of County Treasurer Adda M. Smiley this morning to pay their county taxes. As usual, those who waited until the last day had to stand in line and await their turn.

This was the last day on which county taxes can be paid at their face. On September 1, the tax duplicates go into the hands of Edward Umberger in this city and into the hands of other collectors in the various districts of the county.

County Treasurer Smiley reports that while tax collections have been fairly good so far this year, they have not been up to former years. After today county taxes will have five per cent added.

Boys Of Seventh Ward Are Building Second Miniature Golf Course

It used to be that the children of this neighborhood amused themselves by playing "Hide and Seek" "Bandit" "Tag" and "Crack the Whip." But that was long ago—before the miniature golf craze swept the nation.

It was sometime before the very young set became enthusiastic about the game. They listened to their parents, big sisters and big brothers tell of their conquests on the greens. They listened to stories of "birdies" and very low scores.

And several weeks ago it came. The youngsters of Seventh Ward abandoned their former amusements and substituted golf clubs. And what's more—they built their own golf courses.

It was on a vacant lot on Darlington avenue that the first nine hole course was built. Robert and Samuel Rainey, the managers in chief built the course. They leveled off the ground, spread the sand over the ground, created bumps and gullies for hazards, and sunk tomato cans in the ground for "holes." Then, after getting hold of some golf balls and balls, why everything was set.

Any day, if you should ramble down to Darlington avenue, you will find several golfers concentrating upon getting the ball over the rough and into a tomato can. Sometimes the managers charge a fee to use the course. This fee varies usually with the size of the player and the size of his pocketbook. It ranges from nothing, 2 cents to a nickel.

Then, several days ago, another miniature golf course began sprouting from the ground at the rear of the Nicholas Bachofner home at 220 N. Liberty street.

Little Jack Reeves will be the owner of this new course and he is being as-

Slick Holmes an' his wife married only two years. They slept right out in the open an' existed on wild game an' berries. Mrs. Holmes carried a three-months-old baby, a couple o' flat irons, a copper kettle, an' a spinin' wheel, while Slick carried his trusty rifle, an' an ax, ever alert an' on the lookout fer sneakins', prowlin' Indians who swarmed the territory. And several weeks ago it came. The youngsters of Seventh Ward abandoned their former amusements and substituted golf clubs. And what's more—they built their own golf courses.

It was on a vacant lot on Darlington avenue that the first nine hole course was built. Robert and Samuel Rainey, the managers in chief built the course. They leveled off the ground, spread the sand over the ground, created bumps and gullies for hazards, and sunk tomato cans in the ground for "holes." Then, after getting hold of some golf balls and balls, why everything was set.

Any day, if you should ramble down to Darlington avenue, you will find several golfers concentrating upon getting the ball over the rough and into a tomato can. Sometimes the managers charge a fee to use the course. This fee varies usually with the size of the player and the size of his pocketbook. It ranges from nothing, 2 cents to a nickel.

Then, several days ago, another miniature golf course began sprouting from the ground at the rear of the Nicholas Bachofner home at 220 N. Liberty street.

Little Jack Reeves will be the owner of this new course and he is being as-

Trackless Train To Invite Local Citizens To World Fair

Fred L. Rentz, Mayor William H. Gillespie, members of city council and other prominent citizens will receive an invitation to attend the World's Fair in Chicago in 1933, when a novel advertising car appears here next Wednesday.

This will be in the shape of a trackless train, consisting of an exact duplicate of a locomotive and car, mounted on automobile chassis.

The train is manned for a crew of five men and is one of the many spectacles which the Grigsby-Grunow Company, manufacturers of Majestic Radios and Majestic Refrigerators, have designed to help local radio merchants and also to feature the great World's Fair.

The latest of radio and sound developments have been incorporated in making it possible to broadcast, receive and reproduce music with the volume equivalent to a thirty-five piece band. Public addresses and safety messages may also be made direct from the train.

The trackless train will be on display in front of Haney's Furniture Company, on the Public Square.

The Parent Problem

by GARRY C. MYERS, Ph.D.

Read Books To Children While Small

In the home it is better, as a rule, to read stories than to tell them.

When you tell a story to the child your ability to dramatize largely determines his interest in the story. No matter how early you begin story telling you are building in the child the habit of expecting you to entertain him and of getting most of his information through the ear. He associates the story with you as a personality.

But by and by he is going to go to school, where he will have to learn to read to himself, and to get most of his information and amusement from the printed page. Why not establish early in the child an association of stories with a book as their source?

The average child before the age of two years, if read to from well illustrated story books, as soon as he will tolerate it, enjoys the pictures while he hears the story, creating for himself added pictures which he could not get merely from hearing the story told. Soon the book takes on a kind of human tenderness, since it has the pictured stories which he loves. Early he learns to handle this precious book with care, and there grows up in him a strong desire to learn to read these stories to himself. Literally we may motivate silent reading in the child while he is still in the crib.

When read to the child hears better English models than he hears when stories are told to him. Also when they are read to him he hears the same words, phrases and sentences, over and over. He likes such perfect repetition, and they give him good phrase and sentence patterns.

Relatively few persons are good story tellers, whereas almost any older child or adult can read. Dad, or mother, or grandmother, or grandfather, or Uncle Jim, or Brother Bill, or Sister Cynthia, or a neighbor child or even the maid can entertain the little child by reading to him from an illustrated story book. Different members of the family, therefore, can amuse and educate him, while in a home there is at best rarely more than one who can tell a story well.

When the mother is weary in the evening what finer opportunity to ease her burdens than for the father or an older child to read to the toddler for thirty minutes or more? The stories entertain him, quiet him, and promote the family's welfare. When an older child reads, he has an added motive to succeed at school. He becomes aware also that he is giving happiness to others. He is, therefore, getting moral training.

Begin very early to read to the child; keep on reading to him. By the time he enters school he will enjoy hearing you read stories hard enough for children of the third or fourth grade to read alone. You help him increase his vocabulary. You fire his imagination and you afford him an infinite amount of happiness. Even after he learns at school to read, read to him.

He may enjoy a game in which he reads a page to you and you, in turn, a page to him. In his first or second grade he may also like to have you read fiction, history and science of fifth or sixth grade level.

Avoid the morbid, fearsome, gruesome tales; but read and read and read.

Eintracht's History Story Of Group That Revived Music Gems

Host To Saengerfest Organized
In 1894 With 25 Members;
Merge With Germania

Eintracht Singing Society of New Castle, host to the other societies of the Transylvania-Saxon Saengerbund of North America during the Saengerfest to be held here Sunday and Monday, is one of the oldest singing societies in the United States. It was organized in July 1, 1894. The present Eintracht hall on Taylor street was erected by another New Castle singing society, the Germania Singing Society which merged with Eintracht.

Frohsinn Damechor, the city's women's singing group was formed in September, 1928, and is today headed by Mrs. Katherine Lang, its president. Both Eintracht and the Damechor have arranged plans for the Saengerfest.

The history of Eintracht is replete with activity and accomplishment of a group of men who set out to revive the musical masterpiece that are especially suitable for choir and mass chorus rendition.

Bernhard Luckner was Eintracht's first president when the society was organized with 25 members. Among other officers at that time were John Schaeffer, vice president; John Frederick, corresponding secretary; John Everth, financial secretary; Michael Welman, treasurer.

Present officers are Martin Schlager, president; Fred Weinschank, vice president; John Lienert, secretary; Joseph S. Eve, treasurer; Paul Stadel, music caretaker; W. A. Nischwitz, director.

Officers of the Frohsinn Dame-

chor besides Mrs. Lang are Mrs. Sara Bodendorfer, secretary, and Mrs. Katherine Binder, vice president.

Police Discharged For Torturing Woman

(International News Service)
BELGRADE, Aug. 30.—The government officially announces that those police officials who were charged with torturing Frau Isoldo Reiter, a German woman journalist, have been discharged.

The police officials were accused of having beaten Frau Reiter for hours at a time in order to extort from her a "confession" which was to furnish a basis for prosecuting leaders of the German minority in Yugoslavia for treason.

Frau Reiter sent a complaint to Premier Sivkovitch, but the complaint was held up till news of the torturing reached the outside world, whereupon Premier Sivkovitch ordered an investigation. The discharge of the guilty policemen was the result.

Rudy And McNamee Are In Auto Crash

CANTON, O., Aug. 30.—Rudy Vallee, radio crooner, has one hit to his credit that his close friends and fellow traveling companion failed to announce.

Rudy and McNamee, here for an engagement at Meyers Lake Park, were motoring to the park from a reception in Rudy's robin's egg blue roadster. They collided with another machine at an intersection, damaging both cars.

Vallee and McNamee filled the engagement.

No wonder girls were less bold in the old days. The lad who could drop the lines on the dashboard didn't need so much cooperation.

Hundred Attends Alumni Reunion

Alumni And Sunday School Department Of First Methodist Church Have Picnic

SPORTS PROGRAM INTERESTS MANY

Never was there a more successful event in the annals of the Sunday School Alumni Association of the First Methodist Episcopal church than that which took place on Friday evening at Lakewood when alumni banqueted the graduates and the teachers of the Teen Age department. Close to one hundred attended.

The graduates table was decorated in red and white, the class colors, and garden flowers of mixed colors were used on all tables. Delicious hot dinner was prepared and served by Mrs. John Emery, former president, assisted by Mrs. A. M. McCallan and Mrs. Frank Streib, Mrs. John Grace, Mrs. Nellie Brooks, Mrs. Bruce Brooks, and the superintendents of the Teen Age department, Mrs. J. C. B. Douthett and Mrs. T. A. Myers.

Invocation was pronounced by the superintendent of the Sunday school, Dr. W. L. Beal, after which "Onward Christian Soldiers" was sung. At the close of the dinner, a nomination committee composed of Mrs. Douthett, William Ayers, and Charles Oaks was appointed. A short history of the alumni service was conducted by Mrs. Harry Burgess.

The members of the graduating classes were welcomed into the association by Mrs. John Emery, the presiding officer. It was voted to assess each member of the alumni 25 cents yearly dues to meet the expenses hereafter born by the Sunday school board.

The nominating committee brought in the following ticket: Sydney Lockley, president; Mrs. Ethel McKee Slaver, vice president; Miss Mary Nunn, secretary; Charles Oaks, treasurer; Wilbur Baer, assistant treasurer. This ticket was elected unanimously to serve for the year 1931.

Seated at the graduates table were Sara Patison, Homer Rowland, Henry Wyman, Henry Wyman, Edgar Beal, Kenneth Myers, Joe Lockley, Allan Garvin, Attorney Wilbur Baer, teacher, T. A. Myers, substitute teacher and Cecil Morgan, form teacher.

Out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Morgan, of Greenville, Pa.; Mrs. Leon Radspinner, of Jamestown, N. Y.; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Montgomery, of Akron, O.; R. H. Scott, of Toronto, Canada; and Miss Mabel Rutherford, of Toronto, Canada.

Much credit for the success of the affair goes to Charles Oaks, who served faithfully as secretary during the past year.

Following dinner, a program of sports was held and needless to say, it was great fun. This program was in charge of Jack Leonard and Kenneth Myers.

Results of a volleyball game between married and single men are as follows: 15 to 8 in favor of the older men and 15 to 1, in favor of the older men, in several matches. Winner of the women's walking race was Mrs. W. L. Beal. Mrs. Beal was awarded a rug, donated by Will Ayers. Winner of the women's basketball race was Mrs. J. Norman Smith and received for the accomplishment a picture, donated by John Emery.

Miss Jane Hawkins was awarded a box of stationery donated by John Offutt, for winning the girls' spoon race. Miss Gretchen Myers came out ahead in the girls' balloon race and received a vanity case, donated by Carl Pelsley.

William Ray walked away with the men's walking race and he was presented with a bundle of lollipops. T. A. Myers was also given lollipops for his racing in the men's balloon race.

Allan Garvin showed his prowess in the boys' 75 yard dash and was presented a base ball donated by John Offutt.

The prize committee was headed by Robert Meermans, transportation by Leon Bill and publicity by Ralph Reed and Miss Janet Kissinger.

Boy Scouts Carry Banners In Parade

Prothonotary R. M. Campbell Tells Of Features Of G. A. R. Encampment

Prothonotary R. N. Campbell returned from Cincinnati, O., last night, where he attended the G. A. R. National encampment as a representative of the local encampment of Sons of Veterans. Mr. Campbell reports that considering the falling ranks of the G. A. R. veterans the parade was a remarkably good one. Boy Scouts carried banners at the head of the divisions from each state. One state, Idaho, had only one veteran in line and he carried his own banner. Campbell says that he received a continuous ovation along the line.

Many of the veterans who were unable to walk over the course laid out for the parade, were hauled in automobiles. In the parade were scores of veterans who found it necessary to use canes, and a few hobbled over the course on crutches.

Veterans were taken to visit all the principal points of interest about Cincinnati in automobiles.

First Inheritance Tax Claim Is Filed

Department Of Revenue Taxes Action To Revive Claim In Wallace Estate

For the first time in the history of the county a claim for inheritance tax was filed by the Pennsylvania Department of Revenue at the prothonotary's office this morning against the Elizabeth Wallace Estate. The amount of the claim is $610.10 and the five year limit within which it should have been paid having elapsed action was taken by the state department to keep it revived. It is understood that all other claims against the estate have been paid but due to some complications which arose the inheritance tax claim has not yet been paid.

Will Not Review Veterans' Files Under New Law

Veterans Bureau Will Not Grant Disability Allowance Unless New Claim Is Made

VETS MUST REAPPLY
IF REJECTED BEFORE

Will Draw Allowance For Permanent Disability
While Hospitalized

Under the latest ruling of the U. S. Veterans Bureau, received by the Lawrence County Chapter, American Red Cross, it is stated that the Veterans Bureau will not review the files of those who have had claims for disability compensation before and have been rejected because they could not service-connect their case. Veterans who have had claims before the Bureau and have been refused disability compensation, must reapply if they desire to obtain benefits under the law granting Disability Allowance.

When it is found, however, that a veteran is entitled to a greater amount under the new amendment than what he is already drawing, the Bureau will notify him. Or if his claim has been disallowed for disability compensation, he will be notified of the status of his case and his right to file under the new law.

Disability compensation under the old law is far superior to Disability Allowance under the new law, and unless a veteran's non-service connected disability is of a very serious nature, he should continue under the compensation rating.

Pre-enlistment occupation will not be considered by the rating agency on claims under the Disability Allowance, it is stated. Rating will be on the individual ability to earn support.

In cases of doubt as to the permanent nature of a disability, the rating boards have been instructed to give the veteran the benefit of the doubt.
Any disability that has the appearance of considerable duration will be given a permanent rating. Veterans who are hospitalized for any chronic disease requiring treatment for an indefinite period shall be on the total rating for disability allowance. Such cases will be reconsidered for rating purposes when the veteran is discharged from the hospital.

Dear Brother Lion:

Our meeting Tuesday will be important for every member. There will be reports of committees and plans proposed for work which will be done this fall.

King Lion Ramsey also has some new committees which he will appoint.

Let everyone be there.
Very truly yours,

Secretary

SHIRRING, DRAPERY, CLOSELY FITTED LINES MARK FALL-WINTER HATS

Shirrings, drapings, lines that fit the head closely, are distinguishing marks of the fall-winter chapeaux. Those pictured here, reading from left to right, above, "mouchette" felt printed in tiny dots on one side only is used by Patou for hat of felt stripping, shirred to draw it high off the forehead on one side; Rose Descart model with irregular brim in black velvet with satin ribbon bow; third, dinner bonnet from Marcelle Lely, of black velvet shirred, with double ruche at the neckline; velvet hat with patted brim from Patou, with shirred incrustations. Below, left to right, Reboux wrapped turban of white chenille velvet, with back of black felt; white transparent velvet chapeau by Florence Walton, with shirring and double brim; feather trimming on beige felt; bicorne type hat in chocolate brown soleil.

Bo Broadway by JOSEPH VAN RAALTE

By Central Press.
NEW YORK, Aug. 30.—The recent corn-belt drought prompted numerous greedy wholesalers, avaricious retailers and other produce racketeers to send prices to exorbitant levels. Officials in New York started an investigation and what do you think they found? That high prices of produce were fostered and maintained by Got-ham's lazy hausfraus, who balk at market-basket shopping and whose whimsical buying is responsible for their paying anywhere from $3,000,000
to $7,500,000 a week too much for food.

A BIT CARELESS
Old Hoi Polloi and The Missus and
The Kids fare forth from their tempered "home", headed for Coney Island.

They bear with them multiple packages of lunch. They eat on the beach, by the sad sea waves and when they depart for "home" at vespertime they occupy all day on the sand
is strewn with paper boxes, crumpled tissue paper, discarded cardboard containers, fruit skins, bottles, egg shells, candy wrappers and newspapers.

The mental processes of Hoi Polloi are not orderly. Nothing in his existence warrants tidiness. He has the careless viewpoint of an untrained child.

That explains why daily 25 tons of rubbish, exclusive of driftwood, are removed from the Coney Island beach —playground of the tenements.

A NEW PROFESSION

The increasing vogue of photographic advertising has opened up a lucrative field for masculine models.
There aren't enough of them to meet the demand.

A good male-model earns about $200 a week and is sure of work all year round. There is no limit to the future of a man who possesses the requisites. He needn't be particularly good-looking; but he must have poise, personality and the intelligence to grasp and express the idea back of the picture. The dramatic photography of the advertisements tells its story in a single shot. Unlike the camera work of the movies there's no time for preliminary action. Without the least background a climax must be achieved the instant the reader's eye falls on the picture.

PLAY MANY ROLLS

Many male-models pose as a sideline to sporadic engagements in the movies. Some are employed by artists as well as commercial photographers.
Some are actors out of work. Facility in sympathetic adoption of moods is necessary, also a knowledge of make-up.

The chap who poses as the Refined Go-Getter today may be called upon tomorrow to face the camera as The Young Father or The Successful Business Man.

As a model grows older he need not fear being supplanted by a younger man. The youthful collegian who struts across the rear piazza of the popular magazines in Somebody's shorts may appear some years hence in a condom as The Perfect Butler.
Then of course, there is always the role of the Retired Banker or the Aristocratic Father and, if the worst comes to the worst, Dear Old Santa Claus.

AND THAT'S SUCCESS!

For the first time since an electric light bulb flashed on a Broadway theatre-sign a current success through the summer has permitted its publicity director to take a vacation during the course of the show.
Joe Robbie, genial, talented and urbane adjective slinger for "The Green Pastures," has packed his rods and reels and traces and hied himself to Maine.

Old man Stebbins, who is responsible for producing "The Green Pastures," is breaking all Broadway traditions by leavin' Joe loose, at this time, for two weeks.

But Stebbins is not really a theatrical gent, in the true meaning of the term. He's a "reformed" Wall Street broker who cleaned up down in the Bond Belt and embarked in theatrical ventures as a diversion.

AMBITIOUS, THAT'S ALL

A Westchester town advertised for a municipal manager—only those with experience need apply. They got more than 2,000 letters from men all over the country who, although they admitted they hadn't actually had any experience in that sort of work, had been living in hope that some day they'd be able to land a job as municipal manager just to show what they know about running a town.

DONATION WEEK

The Jameson Memorial Hospital
Aid Society has set the last week in October as Donation Week for the hospital. It is desired to have all the churches and societies throughout the city and county contribute and send their gifts at that time. A room down town will be used to receive and display the gifts.

If each one of your people will give one or two articles we will have a fine showing and be able to add much to the good work of the hospital. One third of the patients are absolutely free
hence the need for our help.

Mr. Motorist, Did You Get Mayor's Friendly Warning?

Mr. Motorist, have you received a letter signed by Mayor William H.
Gillespie? Perhaps you have and are wondering how your misdeed on a city highway brought you to the attention of the city's chief executive.

For nearly a month drivers who violated traffic ordinances have received similar missives. Your license number was sent to the mayor's office by a member of the New Castle Motor Club who saw the violation and reported you during the club's A. B. C. (Always Be Careful) safety campaign, which reaches a close Sunday.

If you have not received a note it may be of interest to you to know what other drivers who have violated traffic laws received. Here is the letter:

Dear Sir: It has been reported to this office that on August 30, you were guilty of driving through a red light.

Such a practice is dangerous, and if continued it might easily lead to a serious accident. Further, it is a violation of the City Ordinances, and of the State Motor Code.

This letter is not a summons, merely a friendly warning to you to be a little more careful in the future.
Should an officer find you guilty of a repetition of this practice it will lead to a fine.

Won't you practice Safety First in handling your Automobile, and aid in making driving safer for all of us?

Yours for safety first,
William H. Gillespie, Mayor.
